

Rescheduled Radical History Review (RHR) Sessions from the 2022 AHA Meeting With Historians for Peace and Democracy (H-PAD)

RHR, with H-PAD, organized ten sessions for the 2022 American Historical Association Conference in New Orleans, January 6-9. Because of the continuing COVID pandemic, and dislocations caused by it, two sessions were cancelled, and the other eight have been rescheduled as indicated below.

I. Rescheduled RHR/H-PAD Sessions to AHA22 Online, February 21 to 27

For information on how to access these virtual sessions, see <https://www.historians.org/annual-meeting/aha22-online>

Monday, February 21, 2022, 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Eastern

“Strategic Discussion: What Role Can Historians and Historically Oriented Intellectuals Play in the Current Crisis?”

- Kevin A. Young, University of Massachusetts Amherst (Chair)
- Diana Sierra Becerra- University of Massachusetts Amherst
- Karlos Kentrell Hill- University of Oklahoma

Discussion: presenters and audience

Monday, February 21, 2022, 5-6:30 p.m. Eastern

“Teaching Contemporary Controversies in the Secondary School History Curriculum”

Chair: Barbara Winslow, Brooklyn College, City University of New York

- Adeola Tella-Williams, Uniondale High School
- Pablo Muriel, Alfred E. Smith High School
- Chris Dier, Benjamin Franklin High School
- Cynthia Vitere, South Side High School

Comment: Alan Singer, Hofstra University

Wednesday, 23, 2022, 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Eastern

“Debating Israel and Apartheid: Historical Comparisons and Historical Fallacies”

Chair: Alex Lichtenstein, Indiana University

- Jonathan Alshech, University of Northern British Columbia
- Sean Jacobs, The New School
- Areej Sabbagh-Khoury, Hebrew University

Comment: The Audience

Thursday, February 24, 2022, 5-6:30 p.m. Eastern

“Ellen Schrecker’s The Lost Promise: American Universities in the 1960s”

Co-Sponsor(s): AHA, RHR

Chair: Adam Fairclough, Leiden University

- Stefan M. Bradley, Amherst College
- Dick Flacks, University of California, Santa Barbara
- Donna Murch, Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey
- Jeremy P. Varon, The New School

Comment: Ellen Schrecker, Yeshiva University (retired)

Thursday, February 24, 2022, 5-6:30 p.m. Eastern

“Free Speech and Koch Money: How to Defend Yourself and Your Colleagues from the Right’s Campus Culture War”

- Ralph Wilson, Corporate Genome Project
- Isaac Kamola, Trinity College and University of Connecticut-AAUP
- Nancy MacLean, Duke University

Comment: The Audience

Sunday, February 27, 2022, 11a.m.-12:30 p.m. Eastern

“Rethinking Civil Rights and Black Politics in the Antebellum North”

Co-Sponsor(s): African American Intellectual History Society

- Van E. Gosse, Franklin & Marshall College (Chair)
- Kate Masur, Northwestern University
- Comments: Christopher James Bonner, University of Maryland, College Park
- Christy Clark-Pujara, University of Wisconsin–Madison
- Sarah L. H. Gronningsater, University of Pennsylvania
- Chernoh Sesay, DePaul University

II. Rescheduled RHR/H-PAD Session to In-Person Forum

Tuesday, March 22, 6:30 p.m., Eastern. Leon Levy Center for Biography, CUNY Grad Center, NYC

“Radical Biography: Confrontations of Race, Gender, Power, and Privilege”

Chair: David Nasaw, Graduate Center of the City University of New York

- “We Do Not Become Refugees by Choice”: From Occupied Poland to California
Teresa A. Meade, Union College
- In This Land of Plenty: Mickey Leland and Africa in American Politics
Benjamin A. Talton, Temple University
- The Most Remarkable Woman: The International Life and Diplomacy of Madame Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, Manu Bhagavan, Hunter College and the Graduate Center of the City University of New York
- Thomas Sankara: A Revolutionary in Cold War Africa
Brian James Peterson, Union College

Comment: David Nasaw, Graduate Center of the City University of New York

III. Rescheduled RHR/H-PAD Session as a Podcast

Podcast to be announced

“Albert Woodfox and Black Resistance to the Carceral State”

- Margaret M. Power, Illinois Institute of Technology (Chair)
- Albert Woodfox, independent scholar
- Rhonda Williams, Vanderbilt University